

Jacob and His Family Live in Egypt

Genesis 46 - 50

The Story - A Long Trip for Jacob

"Joseph is alive! Joseph is alive!" said Jacob's sons. "Joseph wants us to live with him in Egypt," they said.

Jacob was very happy. He thanked God for taking care of Joseph. He also thanked God for giving his hungry family food to eat. Then God talked to Jacob. God said, "Do not be afraid to go to Egypt. I will go with you on the long trip." God promised that He would take care of Jacob's family in Egypt, just like He took care of them in Canaan. He also promised to bring Jacob's family back to Canaan one day.

Jacob got ready for the long trip to Egypt. Jacob's sons and grandsons got ready. Jacob's daughters and granddaughters got ready, too. Then they got the animals ready. At last, sixty-six people and many animals were ready for the long trip.

Jacob chose Judah to be the leader. Judah knew the way to Egypt because he had been there before. The animals had to walk all the way to Egypt. Some of the people rode in wagons, but many of the people had to walk, too. They walked, and walked, and walked. They followed Judah all the way to Egypt.

When Jacob and his family got to Egypt, Joseph was waiting for them. Joseph was so happy to see Jacob! He took Jacob to meet the king. The king was called Pharaoh. Pharaoh said, "You may live in the best part of Egypt."

Jacob and his family made their home in a part of Egypt called Goshen. They lived in Goshen for many years. God took care of them there, just as He promised.

One day, when Jacob was a very old man, he knew it was time for him to die and go to heaven. He wanted to talk to his family one more time. He had something important to tell them! He reminded them about God's promise to send Jesus to die for their sins. Then Jacob told them that Jesus would be one of Judah's great, great...grandchildren. Jacob did not know when Jesus would come, but he knew God would keep His promise. God did keep His promise! He sent Jesus to die for Jacob's sins...and for our sins, too!
